The Tendencies of the Day Toward

The increasing number of droners in the national hive is among the most important economical facts of the times. In his letter to the merchants of Boston, a year or two ago, Mr. McCalloch said that the thing most needed in the present condition of the country was, that the whole population should return to work. A great many journals took it on themselves at the time to ridicule this statement of the Secretary. They referred to the traditional activity of the American mind, to the hot haste to be rich, and to the signs of industry on every hand; and concluded that there was no fault here; that lack of industry could not be predicated as among the causes of existing fired into a crowd of clitzens in Washington last week, was commenced yesults. dicated as among the causes of existing evils. And yet Mr. McCulloch was every way right. Among the worst features of the times is a disinclination, among large classes, to honest, hard work; a preference of easy or partial employments, which barely afford subsistence, without promising promotion sistence, without promising promotion means, was exhumed recently and expended by the providence of poison was or advancement, a lowering of that industrial and social ambition which is at work at something whereby an hon-est penny may be earned, he finds himself landed as it were, at the first ebb of the tide. The slightest recession of the waters deposits him on the shore among the weeds of idleness, and unwholesome vapors becloud his mind. There is scarcely a man in business but has an experience like ours; his young friends continually envying him the privilege of working in a well-defined field, and wishing that like him they had something to strike at. These young men are generally af-flicted with the disease of ambition.

These words:

any rights they may now possess."

mand shat we should not disturb them in any rights they may now possess."

That is a fair bargain, and we advise Tennessee freedmen to make a contract on those terms.

Meantime "leading colored democrats" are "stumping" the southern States. Charleston has several colored democratic clubs with at least a thousand members. Every county in South Carolina will soon have a colored democratic club. The same movement is going on in North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, and even in Texas.

In Mississippi, Indeed, a Democratic meeting, held at Yazoo last week, passed a resolution declaring that the Democrats mean to confer "impartial suffrage on all men, irrespective of color."

The movement is really getting to be of first-rate importance. It seems to something more than a joke. If the Southern Democratic leaders will accept the negro votes, and call the freedmen to work with them in politics, a very troublesome and mischievous question will be settled is a way against which no one can complain. We advise the Republican leaders to pay atsize the remove the proposition of the Southern States. They

These young men are generally afficited with the disease of ambition. They want to be something more than common; and often mistaking their desires for the ability to satisfy them, the flatter themselves that they are fit for something better than the common run of humanity.

Their great fault is in trying to achieve manhood without serving an apprenticeship to it, and they find themselves, when they should be prepared for their life-work, wondering what it will be, and fretting because it doesn't declare itself, and, nine cases out of ten, waiting in vain for such actil, go into politics, agencies, &c.

The great remedy for all this is a trade thoroughly learned, The time between school and iwenty-one should be spent at the carpenter's bench, in a machine shop or at an anvil, so chain the service of the strade with condences his battle with life in any vocation heard. It is not his trade with condence has been covered at his first attempt, turned at life in any vocation that his skilled labor will a slease procure him a living, and perhaps a competence. Time frittered away in trying to discover desirable roas to success, forts up a considerable total on the loss side of the balance sheet.

"Leading Colered Democratics."

From the N. I. Post,

This is the respectful title given by the Charleston Daily Ness to some "niggers" who mean to vote, but who have consented to vote the Democratic ticket. ST. Louis, August 20—A dispatch from Hays Cyty, Kansas, dated yesterday, says the body of Bill Comstock, the famous scout, has just been brought in. He was murdered yesterday by Indians near here. His companions were rescued but badly wounded. Eighty Cheyennes drove off forty mules from within one mile of Fort Hays. The Indians are new retreating towards the Arkansas, with the military and volunteers in hot purnit. Several children stolen by the Indians, have been abandoned and found in the woods. Six women have been carried away captives. With the extensive preparations now organized against the Indians, it is thought there will be no more trouble in Kansas. The next race was for the Chesterfield handicap plate of 100 sovereigns, distance one mile, six horses, was won by Maesilach; the betting previous to the race was two to ten against him. The last race was for the Broadgate Park stakes of five sovereigns each, with fifty added, the winner to be put up "at auction immediately after the race, seven horses started, was won by La Mousse; the betting previous to the race was four to one against him.

upon the fortifications from a fleet of iron clads and land batteries. After pon the fortifications from a fleet of iron clads and land batteries. After desperate and prolonged fighting at the foot of the entrenchments, the allied columns retired without effecting a lodgment within the enemy's works. The loss of the allies is reported at 3,000 killed and wounded. Nothing known of losses of Paraguayans, but as they fought most of the time under cover of entrenchments, it is supposed the number of their killed and wounded will fall far behind that of the allies. The allied forces under Grau Chaco advanced with the object of cutting off the communication of Lopez in the forest. They found them defended by a large body of Paraguayans protected by reastworks. After an obstinate engagement the allies withdrew to their former position. The casualties in this buttle are not stated. The hopes of the war party in Brazil rested upon the success of this enterprise, and its failure will give great impetus to peace movements.
